

STATEMENTS

In recent years, Guangdong Investment Limited (hereinafter referred to as "the Company") has repeatedly found out that some unauthorized persons and/or institutions have counterfeited or misappropriated the Company's name, trademark and/or the Company's information through online and/or offline methods such as websites and/or applications (APP) and/or WeChat groups and/or wealth management platforms to conduct fraudulent activities in connection with investment of wealth management projects, acting agents for sales or direct sales of wealth management products, the Company hereby declares:

1. The Company is not a licensed corporation regulated by the Securities and Futures Commission of Hong Kong.
2. The Company has never launched the businesses in connection with investment of wealth management projects, acting agents for sales or direct sales of wealth management products.
3. The Company has never conducted any businesses in connection with investment of wealth management projects, acting agents for sales or direct sales of wealth management products through online and/or offline methods such as websites and/or applications (APP) and/or WeChat groups and/or QQ groups and/or wealth management platforms.
4. The Company has never authorized any institutions and/or any individuals to use the Company's name, trademark and/or the Company's information to conduct any businesses in connection with investment of wealth management projects, acting agents for sales or direct sales of wealth management products through online and/or offline methods such as websites and/or applications (APP) and/or WeChat groups and/or QQ groups and/or wealth management platforms.
5. Any losses arising from any activities between any investors and any unauthorized persons and/or institutions who have counterfeited or misappropriated the Company's name, trademark and/or the Company's information through online and/or offline methods such as websites and/or applications (APP) and/or WeChat groups and/or QQ groups and/or wealth management platforms, and any legal disputes arising therefrom, are not related to the Company and the Company is not liable for any of such activities.
6. Any use of the Company's name, trademark and/or the Company's information by any institutions and/or any individuals without the consent of the Company is an infringement of the Company's legal rights.
7. The Company reserves the right to further pursue legal actions against any institutions and/or any individuals who counterfeit or misappropriate the Company's name, trademark and/or the Company's information in order to protect the Company's legal rights.